

Drymocallis glandulosa (Potentilla glandulosa) Sticky Cinquefoil

PERENNIAL HERB, deciduous.
To 2' high in clumps.
Leaves bright green. Stems have glandular hairs.
Flowers white to light yellow/
cream — May to July.
Inflorescence is leafy.

Native habitat: Usually in shady areas below 12500' —
throughout California except desert, to British Columbia to Montana, Arizona.

Full sun but prefers part shade.
Prefers silty soil.
Water 2 x /month once established.

Long blooming period.
Can reseed.
Attractive to small insects.

Photographs by Margaret L. Fillius

