

Ericameria palmeri
Palmer's Goldenbush

WOODY PERENNIAL

To 3' high, to 3'+ wide. Dense growth.
Young twigs are slender and light green, later turning light brown.
Leaves narrow with some small teeth, gray-green to green.
Bright yellow flowers from leaf axis - late summer, early fall.

Native habitat: plains and foothills below 2500' - south coast, western Sonoran Desert to northern Baja California.

Full sun.
Needs good drainage.

Good for late season color and for mixing with other evergreen shrubs.
Dried flower parts persist after seeds have dispersed.

