OCTOBER CHAPTER PROGRAM BELLY PLANTS

October 18, (3rd Tues), 7 p.m.

Room 104, Casa Del Prado in Balboa Park

Ileene Anderson, Southern California Regional Botanist for the California Native Plant Society, will show slides of many 'belly' plants of our desert areas. 'Belly' plants are those beautiful plants you can't see from the car, you have to get down on your belly to see them! These diminutive beauties are marvels of the typically harsh dry desert regions. Ileene has a Master's degree in biology from California State University, Northridge and has worked for the state organization of CNPS for 8 years doing conservation work to preserve our incredibly diverse flora in southern California.

GRAPHIC ARTIST/PHOTOGRAPHER

We are in need of a person to take charge of the plant signs. If you've been to the plant sale, you have seen our wonderful signs produced by Dale Clark. These signs show photos of the plant along with planting care and instructions.

We need someone to store the signs (in between the plant sales) and to make new ones. You would be reimbursed for materials which would mostly be paper and ink. RECON is generous enough to store the bulky metal stands, but we need someone to store and care for the signs themselves in between plant sales as well as make new ones. If interested, contact us at carolynmartus@adelphia.net or 760-434-5033.

THE PREZ SAYS

Well it's that time of year again, our annual fall plant sale is on Saturday October 15. We've had plant sales for a long time and, as is always the case, they get better every year and this year is no exception.

Thanks to great people like Ryan West and Bruce Hanson with RECON native plants, we will have a fabulous selection of sizes (some 2" and 4" plants along with many one gallons) and a variety of species. Many perennial best sellers like Woolly blue-curls (Trichostema lanatum) will be on hand. We ordered lots of woolly blue-curls, this may be the year you'll actually get to purchase one, they might even last until 10am!

Thanks to Francisco Chavez from Cal-Native plants in Menifee (www.cal-nativeplants.com) who donated some excellent growing medium, many volunteers were able to grow some of the plants for the plant sale. We will also have some plants from Cal-native plants for purchase on sale day. Of course, many plants will be from Tree of Life Nursery and Las Pilitas. We will also feature some plants from Rancho Jojoba nursery in Lakeside and John Allen, nursery owner Rancho Jojoba, will be on hand to help you select plants and answer questions.

In addition, Connie Beck, Kay Stewart and Greg Rubin will be at the sale helping customers select plants and share the secrets of native plant gardening. Don't forget about seeds and bulbs, Helen Means, Gay Dorius and their team of volunteers have been very busy cleaning and packaging seeds and bulbs. If you're in the market for some white sage (Salvia apiana), this is your year. Through a generous donation from the Soil Ecology and Restoration Group (SERG) at SDSU, we will have many white sage available at a great price.

Get there early for the best selection! We are still accepting pre-orders for the plant sale. Pre-orders must be $200 or 40 one-gallon plants.

CHAPTER MATTERS

BORDER FENCE TO GO AHEAD?

On September 14, Secretary of Homeland Security Michael Chertoff took time out from dealing with the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina to announce that he will waive all environmental laws in order to allow completion of the Triple Border Fence.

Chertoff, who famously stated that he didn't know that 2000 people lacked food and water at New Orleans' Superdome, while not yielding on the destruction of rare and endangered plants, did promise to promote "an aesthetically pleasing" fence that will "not block ocean views."

CNPS and other environmental organizations will challenge the legality of the Real ID Act's attempt to override an existing legal determination (by the Coastal Commission) after the fact. Send contributions for our legal fund to CNPS, P.O. Box 121390, San Diego, CA 92112-1390 (see back page) and write "Borderfields" in the note line on your check.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY SAN ELIJO LAGOON DAY

Volunteer Opportunity: Sat, Oct 18, from 9am to 3pm

We will be setting up our educational display at the San Elijo Lagoon Conservancy's Lagoon Day location at the Nature Center on Manchester Ave (between I-5 and Coast Highway).

The theme for this year's Lagoon Day will be creating and supporting backyard wildlife habitat, this will be a great opportunity to talk to the public about the importance of landscaping with locally native plants. Please reply to Carolyn Martus (contact info on back of newsletter) if you would like to volunteer for an hour or two.

INVITATION TO THE PLANT SALE

Our annual native plant sale will be on Saturday October 15th from 9:15 - 3pm in the courtyard at the Casa Del Prado Courtyard, across from the San Diego Natural History Museum in Balboa park (see page 3 for more details). Come early for a good selection, most of the plants will be gone by noon.

CNPS members are reminded to bring their October newsletter and California driver's license or picture ID with them as the key for early (9:15) admission to the sales area.

Non members will be admitted to the sale area at 10:00. (Non members may join CNPS on the spot) and thus be eligible for early admission. There will be approximately 150 species of California native plants for sale, about 3,000 one gallon plants in total will be available for purchase. There will be some carts available to help shoppers but feel free to bring your own garden cart or little red wagon. There will be a loading zone where you can stage your plants and load up your car.

Native plant experts will be on hand to help shoppers select plants, and answer questions about native plant gardening. Seeds, bulbs, books and posters will also be available for sale.

Orders of at least $200 or 40 one-gallon plants can be placed in advance. All proceeds from the sale benefit our chapter of CNPS and stay right here in San Diego.

PLANT SALE HELPERS NEEDED!

We need folks to help with plant sale operations:

- unload and setup plants in sales area
- help customers load up their stuff during the sale
- take down and cleanup after the sale

Tell us at plantsale@cnpsd.org if you can lend a hand.

GARDEN CARTS NEEDED!

We need carts for unloading the plants. Normally we have borrowed carts from the City of San Diego but we are not able to do that this year.

We will be unloading approximately 3,000 plants at 7am on plant sale day, we need carts and healthy volunteers to help us accomplish this task. I

If you have a cart that could help us with this task, please let us know and bring it on plant sale day. Be sure to mark your cart so it doesn't get mixed up with the others.
