

Projects

Our project areas attempt to encompass entire watershed segments. This usually provides enough space for wildlife to return after the re-vegetation is accomplished. These project areas are primarily concentrated in the San Dieguito River watershed.

