

Scrophularia atrata

Black Flowered Figwort

PERENNIAL Herb
3' - 4' high, erect.
Stems hairy to woolly.
Large, toothed oval blades on long petioles.
Flowers small, urn-shaped, dark red to bluish black on open panicles. Apr - June.

Native Habitat: Limited to the Central Coast ranges of San Louis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties. Calcareous and diatomaceous soils in canyons less than 1500'.

Photograph CNPS San Louis Obispo

Full sun.
Calcium-rich soils.
Low water use. 1x/ month in summer.

RARE - CNPS List 1B.2
Rare or endangered in California and elsewhere.
Fairly endangered in California

