

Dudleya lanceolata

Lance-leaved Dudleya

SUCCULENT

Rosette.

Leaves pointed, pale green.

Stems reddish.

Flowers yellow, pale green to red-orange, on stalks to 20" tall - May to July.

Native habitat: coastal sage scrub, chaparral; dry slopes and banks below 3500' - Baja California to Santa Barbara and Kern counties.

Full sun to part shade.

Good drainage.

Needs some water if grown inland or in pots.

Attractive accent plant.

Good in rock gardens and in containers.

Plant on slight angle to avoid rot.

Photographs by Margaret L. Fillius

