

Hazardia squarrosa
Saw-toothed Goldenbush

Photographs by Margaret L. Fillius

SMALL SUBSHRUB, SHRUB

1-3' high

Prickly, resinous leaves.

Small tawny-yellow composite flowers, tinged red, pappus white to reddish-brown—August to November.

Native habitat: coastal bluffs, montane canyons and ridges, up to 2200 feet—coastal sage scrub and chaparral (Monterey to northern Baja California).

Full sun.

Needs good drainage.

May benefit from some irrigation.

Late season bloomer, providing late season color.

