

Ribes speciosum
Fuchsia Flowering Gooseberry

SHRUB - drought deciduous.
4 - 10' high, 7' spread.
Arching branches.
Rich, glossy, dark green leaves
shield spines and bristles.
Deep red flowers on underside of branches in spring.

Native habitat: coastal sage scrub, chaparral - shaded canyons below 1500' - Baja California to central California.

Part shade to full shade.
Frost resistant.
Will tolerate heavy soils with good drainage.
Needs some summer water
(1 - 2 x /month) once established.

Spectacular.
Good barrier and understory plant.
Free from insect pests and diseases.
Attracts hummingbirds.

