

Salvia clevelandii

Cleveland Sage

SUBSHRUB - evergreen.
3' high, 4' spread.
Rounded, compact form.
Frosted gray-green leaves. Delicate,
fragrant.
Lavender blue flowers on long spikes
- May to August.

Native habitat: coastal sage scrub, chaparral - dry slopes below 3000'
- northern Baja California and San Diego County.
Full sun to part shade.
Frost resistant.
Drought tolerant but can use some summer water (1 x /month).

Slopes, mixed plantings.
Attracts bees, butterflies and hummingbirds.
Good substitute for S. officinalis in cooking.
Pruning following bloom will improve appearance and increase bloom the next year.

Photographs by Margaret L. Fillius

