

Sisyrinchium bellum Blue-Eyed-Grass

Photographs by Margaret L. Fillius

PERENNIAL (Iris Family)

1' high, 1' wide.

Leaves grass-like, slender-stemmed, in clumps.

Flowers bluish-violet, variable, long bloom in spring.

Native habitat: many communities below 3000' - statewide.

Full sun to part shade. Frost resistant.

Will tolerate some drought, but stays green with summer water.

Good accent in rock gardens and meadows.

Reseeds.
